STATE REP. TOM KOVACH INVITES ALL
DELAWARE FLYERS FANS TO A FLYERS PEP RALLY IN WILMINGTON THIS THURSDAY AT NOON

Joining with other Philadelphia Flyers fans throughout the region in celebrating the Flyers making the Stanley Cup Finals, State Representative Tom Kovach (R-Brandywine Hundred Southeast) has helped organize a pep rally for Delawareans to support their favorite local hockey team. The Delaware pep rally for the Flyers will be held on Thursday, June 3, 2010 at 12-noon on Rodney Square in Wilmington.

Rep. Kovach, in cooperation with the City of Wilmington, the Governor's Office and the Flyers organization, has set up the Flyers pep rally. Expected participants include Governor Markell, Wilmington Mayor James Baker and Flyers team alumni.

According to Rep. Kovach, "Delaware is proud to host the Flyers and their fans in the shadow of one of Delaware's historic 'relentless' figures, Caesar Rodney. Delaware is home to some of the most devoted Flyers fans and Wilmington has tremendous support for our home town Blue Rocks on the Riverfront, so it makes sense that the city – with all its team spirit – will host this exciting event for the Flyers."

Rep. Kovach is also planning to introduce legislation that will help Flyers Charities bring their license plate program – which will raise both money and awareness for Flyers Charities – to Delaware, and let Flyers fans show their support year-round.
